Personal Information

Personal Information means information that we collect about you, such as name, address, Social Security number, income, marital status, employment and similar Personal Information.

Information We Collect

In the normal course of business we may collect Personal Information about you from:

- Applications or other forms we receive from you
- Your transactions with us, such as your payment history
- Your transactions with other companies
- Other sources (such as motor vehicle reports, government agencies and medical information bureaus)
- Consumer-reporting agencies

How We Protect Your Information

We restrict access to your Personal Information. It is given only to:

- The employees of Mutual of Omaha companies
- Others who need to know the information to provide our insurance or financial services to you

We have physical, electronic and procedural safeguards in place to make sure your Personal Information is protected. These safeguards follow legal standards and established security standards and procedures.

Sharing Within Mutual of Omaha

Your Personal Information

In the normal course of business we may share your Personal Information among the Mutual of Omaha companies listed above and with our banking affiliates. The type of information we share could include your name, Social Security number and other identifying information you provide to us. We may also share information about your transactions with us, such as your payment history.

We do not share your medical information, except to the extent we are required or permitted to under federal or state law.

Your Creditworthiness Information

When you completed an application for one of our products, you may have given us your written consent to share information about your creditworthiness among the Mutual of Omaha companies listed above and with our banking affiliates. We do so to make it easier to do business with us. It also lets us better match our products and services with your needs. Creditworthiness includes:

- Your marital status
- Your income
- Your employment history
- Your credit history

If we did not share this information among our companies, you might be required to provide the same information each time you apply for one of our products or services.

We will not share information about your creditworthiness without your prior written consent.

Sharing With Third Parties

Vermont law prohibits us from sharing Personal Information about you with certain third parties outside the Mutual of Omaha companies without your authorization. Since the Mutual of Omaha companies do not share information with such third parties, we are not requesting your authorization. Vermont law also requires us to inform you about the methods you can use to authorize us to share information with these third parties. If we ever need to request your authorization, we will inform you of those methods.

We may still share your Personal Information with third parties in those circumstances where sharing is permitted or required by law. For example:

- With our agents and brokers
- To respond to a judicial process or government regulatory authority
- To process an insurance transaction that you request
- To service your account, such as paying a claim
- To allow third parties to perform insurance functions on our behalf
- To other financial institutions with whom we have joint marketing agreements

We do not sell names or other information about our Vermont customers to third parties for marketing purposes.

We do not share your medical information, except to the extent we are required or permitted to under federal or state law.
